WE ARE ASSOCIATED

OUR HISTORY AND MISSION

Next Generation: Erika Tessarolo

Erika Tessarolo joined the family business at a young age, gradually becoming a key driving force in the development and evolution of Show Games' professional mechanical entertainment rides. Guided by the experience of her father, she developed a strong foundation in innovation, craftsmanship, and design discipline, alongside a deep understanding of the technical and operational aspects of mechanical entertainment.

Her direct, hands-on involvement in both creative direction and technical development plays a central role in defining Show Games' identity today. From original concepts to refined finishes, every attraction reflects a careful balance between engineering precision and artisanal execution—an approach rooted in authentic Italian manufacturing culture and applied to modern, professional entertainment systems.

SHOW GAMES – The Original Mechanical Rodeo Brand

The Show Games brand was founded in 1989 by the Tessarolo family, an Italian family of inventors and artisans.

Today, it stands as the world's No. 1 leader in the invention and production of professional mechanical rodeo machines, mechanical bulls, and multi-ride amusement attractions.

Show Games entered the international market between 1989 and 1990 with the invention of the first Pneumatic Surf Simulator and Boxing Simulator, followed in 1991 by the creation of the Mechanical Rodeo Bull.

Over the years, the company has built unparalleled expertise, becoming one of the most respected manufacturers of rodeo simulators in the world.

Its best-selling product, the Rodeo Bull Machine, is renowned for its realism and precision, faithfully reproducing the true sensations of professional rodeo competition — both in movement and visual design. With the acquisition of the brand by Erika Tessarolo, the entire company underwent a remarkable evolution. Structure, design, technology, mechanics, and quality standards reached new heights of innovation and excellence.

This transformation opened major global markets, including the United States, Latin America, and the United Arab Emirates.

Even today, Erika Tessarolo personally oversees every detail of both the products and the company's vision, introducing cutting-edge technologies, remote assistance systems, and continuous safety updates to guarantee maximum performance and reliability.

Each Show Games creation is not just a product — it is a unique piece of mechanical art, entirely handcrafted with meticulous care and artistic vision.

Since 2019, Erika Tessarolo has also been an active member of SIAE – the Italian Society of Authors and Artists, which protects her original artistic works used for entertainment purposes.

Worldwide Recognition and Partnerships

Show Games products are chosen by renowned personalities, professional rodeo athletes, and major amusement parks worldwide for their safety, realism, and quality.

Professional World Rodeo Champions, such as Adriano Moraes, three-time PBR World Champion (pbr.com), have used our simulators for training.

Our clients and collaborators include:

Fun Spot America Parks, McDonald's, Samsung, Ricola, Rovagnati, Philipp Plein, Juventus Football Club, Heineken, Jack Daniel's, Sector No Limits, Fiat Chrysler, Bayer, Wrangler, Bacardi, the United States Air Force (USAF), Gardaland, Mirabilandia, MagicLand (Merlin Group & Parques Reunidos), and many other prestigious brands.

Ugo Tessarolo has been an inventor and entrepreneur since 1976, driven by a strong interest in American country and rodeo culture. Over the years, he played a key role in introducing and promoting the mechanical rodeo concept in Italy, collaborating with event organizers, media partners, and local institutions to develop and expand this form of entertainment. By combining technical expertise with a deep understanding of rodeo dynamics, Ugo designed and built the first mechanical bull models introduced to the Italian market.
